D. APPLETON & CO., Nos. 443 and 445 BROADWAY.
PUBLISHED THIS DAY:
AN INTRODUCTION TO MUNICIPAL LAW.
DESIGNED FOR GENERAL READERS, AND FOR STUDENTS IN COLLEGES AND HIGH SCHOOLS.
By JOHN NORTON POMEROY.
1 VOL. Fvo. 544 pages, cloth, $3.
From Amos Dean, esq., Albany Law School.

I have spent nearly four days in reading the book, and am willing to say that it is well considered in reference to its scope and the design had in view in entering upon it. It is a work of great merit. The topics are presented clearly, discussed with ability, and in the main satisfactory results arrived at. Parts I and II, I think, may prove very useful to public speakers, and will be of great interest to those who desire to learn the history of the law, and especially in its sources, both common and civil, that is very clearly, briefly, and logically stated, and more available in the manner presented in your work than any other that I am acquainted with.

From J. H. Moltz, D. Dr. Prof. of Political Science in Princeton College, N. J.

I have examined the advance sheets of your work on Municipal Law, and I am happy to say that I regard it as one of great value, not only for the general reader, to whom it will be of great interest and profit, but also for the student, and especially for the lawyer. The great importance of the work, however, will be found, I think, in its use as a text-book for the higher classes in our colleges; and as such, it is my purpose to introduce it into my department, and to make it a part of the course. New topics, and, indeed, that contain a vast amount of information upon the matters of which it treats, which no educated man can afford to dispense with. Having been acquainted with your labors from the beginning, I rejoice that you have brought them to so happy a conclusion.

John Norton Pomeroy,
Judge of the Court of Appeals of the State of New-York.

The education of an American citizen is incomplete that does not include in it some knowledge of the science of the law, and any course of instruction that passes it by as something foreign to the purposes of a liberal education is essentially defective.

I have been struck with the precision and accuracy, and, in view of the magnitude of the subject, the completeness, of the book.

AN ENGLISH ESTIMATOR OF GEN. BUTLER.—The London Spectator observes a long and favorable review of Mr. T. B. COOPER, BUTLER IN NEW-ORLEANS, with this paragraph: "This Biography leaves on our minds no doubt that the Union possesses in Gen. Butler a man of rare and original capacity, extraordinarily well informed, and thoroughly versed in every country, through with that indifference to the feelings of others so often marked in very strong men. Of all the men who fill our European history the one he is most like—strangely like—is Frederic the Great."—London Spectator.
